Taipei is located in northern Taiwan, including the northeastern part of the Taipei basin and the surrounding hilly region. Thanks to advances in economic development and the robust convenient transportation systems, important international conferences and exhibitions are frequently held here in Taipei, drawing overseas travelers to visit, to do business, to stay and study in Taipei City. Its ethnic fusion has styled Taipei to become a melting pot of cultural diversity.

National Palace Museum

The well-known National Palace Museum was first established in 1925 and re-established in 1965. The museum exhibits the most precious and important historical documentations, paintings, arts, and crafts reflecting the rich cultural heritage and civilization of the ancient Chinese. Treasures include ancient Chinese paintings, ceramics, jade sculptures, remains of bronze weapons and many other antiques. The wide priceless collection of the crafts covers five thousand years of Chinese history.
